Paws Under Pressure: An Emergency Medicine Conference

21 - 23 October 2024 | State Library, Victoria

UNDER PRESSURE

An emergency presentation comes through the door – how do you feel? Vaguely panicked? Completely terrified? Quietly confident?

Navigating the shift from routine veterinary consults to emergency cases demands a unique skill set. This upcoming conference, led by experienced expatriate Australian vets Kate Hopper and Dominic Barfield, promises to equip attendees with the ability to seamlessly transition between these modes.

Focused on developing an instinctive approach, the event will provide practical rules of thumb to avoid cognitive overload in high-pressure situations. Topics include collapsed patient management, CPR updates, respiratory distress strategies, handling intoxications, and pain relief within the ER. Hopper and Barfield, drawing from personal experiences, aim to guide participants in steering clear of common pitfalls in critical care.

Register now and take advantage of our CVE Member Early Bird rates until Friday 23 August 2024.
